Visit Rentschler Library, located on the second floor of Schwarm Hall, to research, study for exams, relax between classes, meet friends or work on group projects. Friendly library staff are eager to assist you with all of your research needs.

The library has 54 computers for students to access the library catalog and research databases, check their email and visit the Blackboard sites for their courses. Additionally, students can write papers, create PowerPoint presentations, and produce spreadsheets since each station is equipped with the Microsoft Office Suite of software. Course specific software is also accessible on all library workstations.

The library web site serves as the campus's starting point for research. It provides access to the books, journals and other materials owned by Rentschler Library and the other Miami University libraries. As a member of the OhioLINK consortium, Rentschler Library is also able to provide students with access to thousands of e-books and e-journals, digital videos, and digital art images. MUH students can also request millions of books owned by colleges and universities throughout the state of Ohio via the OhioLINK library catalog.

Rentschler Library offers a wide array of services designed to meet the needs of our diverse student body.

- Our “Textbooks on Reserve” program gives students the opportunity to check out the required texts for many Miami Plan and introductory level courses for two hours at a time;
- We house a leisure reading collection in a comfortable area of the library where students can relax between classes;
- Our group study rooms are the perfect place to rehearse for group presentations, while our individual study rooms are great for intense study sessions; and
- We offer research assistance via instant messaging for students who need help finding information outside the library.
